Book Description:

This is the story of a young girl's journey through homelessness. It is a story of poverty, resilience, and hope.

The author was just 10 years old when her family lost their home. She and her family were forced to live on the streets, in shelters, and in motels. The author experienced firsthand the challenges of homelessness, including hunger, cold, and fear.

But the author also found hope amidst the hardship. She found hope in the kindness of strangers, in the support of her family, and in her own determination to overcome her circumstances.

This is a powerful and inspiring memoir that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a story of resilience, hope, and the power of the human spirit.

"A powerful and moving memoir. The author's voice is honest, raw, and unflinching. This is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the human toll of homelessness." - [Review Source]

Author's Note:

I wrote this book to share my story with others. I want people to understand the realities of homelessness, and I want to inspire hope in those who are struggling. I hope that my story will help to break down the stigma surrounding homelessness and help to create a more compassionate society.
